ii. Award Categories

Social innovation is the deployment of innovative technologies or business models to change interrelationships among individuals and groups in the society, and it helps develop new approaches to social problems with the changes. The award sets motivating social innovation partnerships as its purpose, integrating 17 SDGs sorted into three categories, Biosphere Sustainability, Inclusive Business and Social Prosperity. The integration and interrelationships of the SDGs are emphasized to establish development models that fit the needs of our time without harming the interests of future generations. Three winners will be chosen from each category and there will be one Special Jury Prize chosen by the judging panel to celebrate the worthiest case, specified in the following.

1. The Biosphere Sustainability Award

The purpose of this award is to encourage cases of social innovation partnerships devoted to environmental protection and sustainability, acknowledging that a favorable natural environment is fundamental to all human activities. The highly related corresponding SDGs are SDG6: Clean Water and Sanitation, SDG13: Climate Action, SDG14: Life below Water, and SDG15: Life on Land.

2. The Inclusive Business Award

The award values socially innovative approaches to economic activities and commerce. Innovation, in terms of economics, does not only imply increase in income or employment, but also decrease in inequality and negative impacts, as well responsible measures to forward economic growth and cycle. The highly related corresponding SDGs are SDG8: Decent Work and Economic Growth, SDG9: Industry, Innovation and Infrastructure, SDG10: Reduced Inequality and SDG12: Responsible Consumption and Production.

3. The Social Prosperity Award

The award focuses on social innovation initiatives relevant to fundamental dignity in human society. The highly related corresponding SDGs are SDG1: No Poverty, SDG2: Zero Hunger, SDG3: Good Health and Well-Being, SDG4: Quality Education, SDG5: Gender Equality, SDG7: Affordable and Clean Energy ,SDG11: Sustainable Cities and Communities and SDG16: Peace, justice and strong institutions.

※ Applicants are required to choose one category when registering, and are not allowed to alter the decision.

4. Special Jury Prize

In addition to the awards mentioned above, the Special Jury Prize will be chosen by the judging panel to honor the worthiest case of the year, which is not limited to the registered category of it.

※ This year, the Special Jury Prize will honor social innovative cases addressing the COVID-19 pandemic, encouraging partnership experiences sharing across the Asia Pacific in this epidemic. However, applicants are required to choose one category (Biosphere Sustainability, Inclusive Business, Social Prosperity) when registering.

iii. Selection Process

1. Qualification review: All applications will be reviewed for whether the information provided is comprehensive and whether the cases connect to SDGs. If an application is incomplete, the applicant will be notified to submit additional information. The application will not be considered if all necessary documents are not submitted before the application deadline.
2. First round of selection: APSIPA task force comprised of experts and scholars of social innovation will score applications according to the four aspects listed below. Applications which are scored top five in each award category can enter the final round of selection. If there are two application cases with the same score, the one with the higher “Impact” aspect score will be given priority.
3. Final round of selection: Organizations which are shortlisted will be invited to participated in the online final judge meeting. The award judge panel is comprised of experts and practitioners in the field of social innovation in the Asia Pacific. Organizations which are scored top three in each category will be awarded.

there are two application cases with the same score, the one with the higher “Impact” aspect score will be given priority. The judge panel will consider all aspects of the shortlisted applications and select the winner of the Special Jury Award.
